HALF CENTURY OF SERVICE ENDS WITH DEATH OF A. A. DUNKLEE AT 85

A. A. Dunklee, 85, known throughout New England as a dairy operator and active in the founding of several farmers organizations, died at his home in Vernon, Vt., Tuesday, October 13, 1948.

He was active to the end, having attended a directors meeting of the Vermont-Peoples National Bank, Brattleboro, Vt., of which he was a vice-president, on Monday, and he attended church services at the Advent Christian Church on Sunday.

Adelbert Dunklee was born in Vernon, Vt., on April 19, 1863. His parents were Nelson Dunklee and Orville K. Stoddard Harvey. He lived in Williamsville and Newfane, Vt., Winchester, N. H., and Northfield, until his parents returned to Vernon, Vt., when he was eight years old.

On Sept. 1, 1886 he married Florence D. Brown, and they have three children, Ernest W., Warren B., and Louella, wife of Charles S. Tenney of Northfield Farms.

Dunklee owned the Walnut Grove Dairy Farm, and had built it into one of the largest and best known dairies in this area. His sons were associated with him in the development of the dairy, and had taken over his management.

Dunklee was the leading figure in Community and civic affairs for more than a half century, having held nearly all of the town offices in Vernon during this period, and also served in the Vermont State legislature, as town representative and State Senator.

He was the second president of the Eastern States Farmers Exchange, as well as of the Windham County Farm Bureau. He was a member of the New England Council from Vermont. At the time of his death he was superintendent of the Sunday School of the Advent Christian Church, a post he had held for 50 years, he was also a deacon of the church.

He had also been treasurer of both the Advent Christian Church and the Vernon Advent Christian Home.

Surviving are his wife, and three children, 11 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren, as well as his late brother Wesley's wife, Eleanor.

Funeral services were held today Friday, October 15, at the Advent Christian Church, with Rev. E. W. Blackstone officiating. Burial will be in the Tyler Cemetery in Vernon.

No Shovel Needed A Pencil Will Do It

"You don't need a shovel to fix our roads — you can do it with a pencil by voting 'Yes' on the Good Roads Amendment," according to the Massachusetts Good Roads Committee which is sponsoring the second question on the ballot, November 2.

"This proposed amendment to the State Constitution has become a necessity," the Good Roads Committee reports, "to protect our highway fund from raids which have already seized $135,000,000 for non-highway purposes. The law which established the gasoline tax intended that these funds should be used for highway construction and maintenance only. Actually, the money diverted from the highway fund would have built more than 500 miles of super highways and repaired and maintained miles of presently bumpy and inadequate roads."

Summer Visitor Dies

Rev. D. T. Stephenson of Madison, N. J., who has been a summer visitor for several years to the Northfield Community Church, died Sunday, October 9, at the Methodist hospital in Brooklyn, N. Y. He was 75 years old and retired. He was a well known clergyman of the Methodist Church and served churches in Chicago, Indiana and New Jersey.

Adult Education Topic For Next Forum Meeting

The date for the next public forum meeting has been changed to Monday, October 25, at 8 p. m. in the Town Hall. This change was requested by those who have other meetings to attend on Thursday evenings.

The subject, "Adult Education" was chosen for the next forum discussion because of the many requests received by the PRESS. For those who wish to prepare material for discussion the subject was divided into four sub-headings: 1. Education for citizenship; 2. Education for parenthood; 3. Training youth; 4. Community responsibility.

Anyone having special material on these topics is requested to bring it to the meeting. All interested persons are urged to attend, Oct. 25. No admission charge.

CAMIERS AND NORTHFIELD LINKED BY LETTERS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

With the 29 pupils in Mrs. Willis K. Parker's fifth grade class having "adopted" children of Camiers, the first large scale correspondence with Camiers is about to begin.

The 4-H Club, under the supervision of Mrs. Edward Benney and Miss Hazel Schooley, has taken three children with whom they will begin a correspondence.

As the letter from the Mayor of Camiers indicates a fine committee has been appointed over there to coordinate this adoption program from that end.

The Mayor's letter also asked if Northfield would like to play a part in the Christmas tree to the children of Camiers. This could well be the most important, and the happiest Christmas, ever celebrated in Camiers.

Letters and cards have come to the Press from other towns inquiring about the adoption, and how those individuals could take part in it. Names of children have been sent to these people, and in the case of those who have wanted families they have been told that as soon as the Committee in Camiers has prepared the report these needy families would be available.

The committee met on Oct. 6, so that the report should be in our hands in a few days, or a week at the most. Then all who have given their names to the PRESS will be notified and furnished with a complete story of the family they "adopt".

The bulk shipment is still in preparation, but more, much more is needed, so those who have delayed participation in this program are urged to get in touch with the PRESS.

All material for the bulk shipment will be assembled at the PRESS house, off Parker Ave., so call, or write, we will come and get it.

A Merry Christmas?

When you begin to think of Christmas, with the tinsels and the trees — the gifts and the happy children, remember that there will be some children not so fortunate unless we see to it that Santa Claus rides over that way.

There are more than 300 children under the care of the Sanatorium in Camlars — ranging from the ages of 3 to 16. We could do no greater service than to see that the Christmas tree of these children will include at least one gift for each of them.

So when you shop — shop for two — your child and a child in Camlars.

Although Christmas seems far-off it isn't too far off to begin preparing gifts for these children in the Sanatorium.

If you have toys that are not being used at home — let us know, for some girl of Camlars needs a doll. If you have games, or scissors, or pens, or pencils, or books — let us know.

Let the light that emanates from the star atop your Christmas tree this year shine far beyond the usual limits — make sure that it shines over the children of Camlars.

Share your Christmas this year — bring into your homes a child of Camlars, even though it is only with your imagination, but let them share a bit of Holiday friendship and cheer.

There can be no greater gratitude than the thanks of 300 children when they find something under their tree that reflects the spirit of Christmas from friends some 3000 miles away.

Share your Christmas with Camlars this year!!

Band Them Together

No better proof is needed for the creation of a Central Planning Committee in Northfield than the spontaneous reaction throughout the town.

Vigorous steps should be taken for positive action to bring this Committee to life. Every organization should take it upon themselves to have a representative at the first meeting on November 17. They should come prepared with instructions from their membership, in order that this group can begin work immediately.

The Central Planning Committee will not supersede any active town committees. It is intended that any work done by this Committee will supplement and complement the aims and purposes of such community organizations now in existence.

Now is the time to take stock of our organizations, to band them together for the good of the entire community.

Town Topics

Among those who spent the Columbus Day holiday or portions of the week at their residences on the Ridge were Rev. and Mrs. Parker Holloway of Madison, N. (Letters should be limited to 400 words or less. All letters must be signed by the writer — the name will not be used if you so desire.)

East Northfield, Mass., Oct. 13, 1948
Dear Mr. Editor:

Back in the years 1932 through 1938 there existed in this town a group of young people who met each week for recreational purposes under the name of the Community Recreational Club. Jolly, happy times they had year after year, until the sponsors of this group felt they must give up the leadership. With the winter approaching and the need for supervised recreational work for young people greater than ever, I wish that interest along these lines might be awakened early in this season and leaders chosen to carry on the supervision.

It is so easy and all too common to criticize young people in what they do in their natural search for amusement; but such criticism is futile, and only arouses antagonism among young people themselves. Far better will it be to meet their needs, and do a constructive piece of character building with them as they play. The Community Recreational Club has a small fund which will be available to further such an undertaking. Since I myself do not feel equal to such leadership, I would gladly help in furthering such an enterprise, and those persons who assisted so unselfishly during those years, would doubtless do their part to further such work, as a community project.

Camlars, France
October 2, 1948

The Northfield Press,
Northfield, Mass.

Sirs:
We received with pleasure the copies of your newspaper in which you appealed to the citizens of your town in our behalf.

We were especially touched by the friendly words which you spoke of our children, as well as the elderly and needy. Through Mrs. F. Gilliam, you must have received the names of the committee set up at Camlars at your request; please notice that Mrs. Cardon, delegate from "Entree de France" has been added to the committee and that Mr. Foguet, Mayor of Tour de France (a very recent and congenial to accept the position of Honorary President of the committee.

A meeting was held Thursday, Sept. 23, and all the members rejoiced at the bond of friendship which your gesture has created between our two countries. A second meeting will be held Tuesday, Oct. 6, and following that meeting the list of needy families and individuals will be made out and sent to you.

You have received a list of the children of our town; please find attached a statement of the number of children now registered at the Preventorium of Camlars, which has been open only a short time and the borders of which are children of needy families or are public charges.

It is not, of course, our intention to make our wishes known to you have been so kind as to take an interest in the lot of our population; may I, however suggest to you that any interest on the part of "Northfield" in our children's Christmas tree would be very much appreciated.

Repeating the expression of our gratitude, please believe, Gentlemen, in the assurance of our cordial sentiments.

The Mayor
P. Van Compernel

To the Northfield Press:

On Nov. 2nd every citizen of our Town "Beautiful Northfield" has the privilege of expressing their opposition to the Liquor Traffic as there will appear on each ballot 3 questions which will decide our fate. Our answer will either be a curse, or a blessing. Let us not forget that yours and mine "Yes or No" may decide for right or wrong. I feel sure every voter who loves Home, Beauty and Peace will be glad to vote NO, NO, NO, on each of the Liquor questions. Evangelist Booth has said, "There is nothing so damaging and degrading as the 'Demon Drink'."

Drink has drained more blood. Hung more crepe. Sold more homes. Plunged more people into bankruptcy.

Armed more villains. Slain more children. Snapped more wedding rings. Defiled more innocents. Blinded more eyes. Twisted more limbs. Dehorned more religion. Wrecked more manhood. Dishonored more womanhood. Broken more hearts. Blasted more lives. Driven more to suicide.

ENTITLED
"THE FORT AND THE RIVER"

PROLOGUE

The summer of 1675 had been spent in preparation to abandon our temporary homes in the settlement of Hadley, and to follow the river north until we reached the new settlement at Squakheag.

To the settlers, who had survived the murderous winters and the blistering summers, the constant anxiety of Indian raids, the meagre stores, and the long hours of hard work, one more change conjured no greater horrors than had already been witnessed.

Our first forebodings of disaster came in the shape of a messenger from the new settlement with a long account of "incidents" with the savages. Consequently, a contin-gent of volunteers, under the leadership of Capt. Beers, and an escort of supplies and ammunition was sent to relieve the settlers of Squakheag.

The events that followed during the first week in September blasted our hopes of ever reaching our destination. The last survivors of the massacre had returned to Hadley by the time Major Treat and some Connecticut troops were on their way north.

The loss of my father, along with Capt. Beers and the others, was no greater tragedy than the news that the first settlers had decided to abandon their new homes at Squakheag.

Save Green Tomatoes For Many Uses

Get the last green tomatoes off the vines before frost catches them. Don't let any of them go to waste, for these tomatoes are all good food, although they haven't developed all the vitamin values and flavor and "eye appeal" of ripe red Marglores or Bonny Bests. Home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture say that you can use the green tomatoes in ways that will make them seem like a newly discovered fruit or vegetable or pickle when they come on the table.

Try ripening a few of the largest ones. If they don't respond to a reasonable sunning, use them as they are. You can stew or scallop green tomatoes just as you do red ones. Or slice them, flour or bread the slices, and fry them in a little savory fat. Or cut them in halves and broil them in the lower oven. Or make them into pies or tarts, with a plain green tomato filling, or green tomato mincemeat.

To make a green tomato pie, slice five or six medium size tomatoes and one-half a lemon, add two tablespoons water and cook until nearly tender. Drain and reserve the liquid. Mix 1 tablespoon corn starch with sugar to taste, about three-quarter cup, and a little cinnamon and salt. Mix with the tomato liquid, heat, and stir until thickened. Add the tomatoes and a little table fat. Pour the mixture into a partially baked pie crust, put on a top sheet of dough, and bake in a moderately hot oven (375 F.) for about 30 minutes or until the crust is golden brown.

You make a "mock mincemeat" with green tomatoes in much the same way as other mincemeat. When it is cooked thick seal it in hot sterilized quart jars. One quart jar holds about enough for a good sized pie. Green tomato mincemeat has 11 ingredients. Here are the quantities you would need to make three quarts of pie fillings: Chopped green tomatoes, 4 quarts; pared, sliced tart apples, two quarts; seeded raisins, half a pound; minced citron, 4 tablespoons if available; spices, four teaspoons of cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoon each of allspice and cloves; brown sugar, five cups; vinegar, two cups and water, two cups, or more water and less vinegar, depending on how acid the vinegar is. Cook all these ingredients together slowly until the tomatoes are tender and the mincemeat is thick. Stir occasionally

Obituaries

MRS. ANNIE O'KELLEY
Mrs. Annie (Flynn) O'Kelley, 77, widow of Daniel O'Kelley, died last night in Farren Memorial hospital. She was born in Ireland, May 21, 1871, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Flynn and made her home here 45 years ago.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Annie Whiteman of Park Villa, Turners Falls, and Mrs. Evangeline Yaskovic of Yonkers, N. Y.; two sons, Michael of Queens Village, L. I., and William of Greenfield; three step-children, Mrs. Mary Makos of Flushing, L. I., Mrs. Nora Boisnault of Brooklyn N. Y., and James O'Kelley of Long Island; and 21 grandchildren.

The funeral was Wednesday at 8:30 a. m. in Turners Falls and at 9 a. m. at St. Mary's church in Northfield, with burial in St. Mary's cemetery.

to prevent burning.

If you have enough sugar you might make a few jars of green tomato marmalade. Allow one-half pound of sugar and a thinly sliced lemon for each pound of green tomatoes, also a quarter teaspoon of salt. Boil the sliced lemons about five minutes in a small amount of water containing the salt. A cupful of water is enough for six lemons. Add the cooked sliced lemon to the tomatoes and sugar. Heat all together slowly, then cook rapidly for about half an hour, or until the marmalade is like thick heavy jam. Stir often while it is cooking. In this case the lemon not only adds flavor, but also provides the pectin needed for jellying.
